- iii. Meditation: via Mary Beth Miller via Christian Quote of the Day
 [Jesus:] "And when you pray, do not keep on babbling like pagans, for they think they will be heard because of their many words. Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask him."
 --Matthew 6:7-8 (NIV)
- Quotation:
 It is remarkable how skillfully men will contrive to avoid all real interests, and express almost wholly those which are not real to them. A man prays for the glory of God, for the advance of His kingdom, for the evangelisation of the world; but, in that very time, he will not allude to the very things in which his own life may stand, nor to the wants which every day are working their impress upon his character. The cares, the petty annoyances, the impatience of temper, pride, self-indulgence, selfishness, conscious and unconscious; or, on the other hand, the gladnesses of daily life, the blessings of home, the felicities of friendship, the joys and success of life--in short, all the things which one would talk of to a venerable mother, in an hour of confidence, are excluded from prayer among the brotherhood.
 ... Henry Ward Beecher (1813-1887), Summer in the Soul, Edinburgh: A. Strahan & Co., 1859, p. 41

- Quiet time reflection:
 Lord, Your Spirit teaches me to pray.

e. Reflections

- i. From the Brothers of St. John the Evangelist
- (1) Light
 Even now, we're participating in the dance of the Trinity, becoming what we are: the Light of Christ, blazing like the Sun in all our Godliness as an offering for the world. Sometimes, when we rest quietly in prayer, we can sense this Truth, this Beautiful Light unfolding from within the silence and emptiness. --Br. Nicholas Bartoli
- (2) Provision
 What seems lacking for you today? What are you walking into that you did not dream up, have not planned nor prepared for? God is with us here, in the change, disruption, and confusion. God is providing. God is saving still, and God will provide for you. –Br. Luke Ditewig

(3) Hope

Hope is like the deep roots of a tree that support its weight and keep it upright, or like an anchor that holds a boat steady in its place against the wind and waves. When we hope in God, we lean upon a sure foundation; we stand strong in an unshakeable fortress; we hide ourselves in the cleft of a rock which shelters us from the storm.

–Br. David Vryhof

(4) Future

The world as we have known it (or supposed it to be in human terms) is coming to an end. Our time of worldwide pandemic, of climate catastrophe, of endemic violence and injustice, of failed leadership and demagoguery is unique to us and yet it is nothing new. But, our call of witness and fidelity to Christ remains constant, manifested in ways ever new. As this old world passes away, may we receive grace to persevere in Jesus' self-offering of love, extending mercy and justice to all as we actively hope in God's future.

–Br. Jonathan Maury
