c. Justice

- i. Church reflections on anniversary of unmarked burial findings
via KAIROS Canada
KAIROS gathers reflections to mark the anniversary of the 215 unmarked graves discovered on the grounds of the former Kamloops Residential School. The reflections also serve to remind us of the work ahead to bring about reconciliation and to decolonize.

- d. Métis cultural centre of Sault Ste. Marie ready for grand opening via CBC Sudbury In 2017, the Diocese of Algoma returned everything on the site of the former St. John's Anglican Church in Sault Ste. Marie to the Métis Nation of Ontario. The vision among the city's Métis community—of having a community centre—began to grow and a week ago, the wider community was able to witness how much work and effort has gone into renovating the old church, rectory and hall. The centre will now serve as a place for Métis people to gather and engage with their community.

- ii. Messages from around the world reach Latvian church via Christ Church Cathedral (Diocese of Fredericton)
Typically, St. Saviour's—the only Anglican Church in Latvia—displays an exhibition of art created by members of its congregation. For 2022, Churchwarden Joseph Horgan had a different suggestion. In April, he reached out to Anglican dioceses across the globe, and was met with an overwhelming response from people eager to participate—including Christ Church Cathedral in the Diocese of Fredericton. [Note: Latvia Has western borders with Russia and Belarus].

- iii. Archbishop of Canterbury writes about the possibility of peace in new essay Archbishop Justin Welby writes for The Guardian about the possibility of peace and building a new world out of brokenness. "In Christian thought, we have the concept of just war theory, which attempts to understand how conflict might sometimes be morally justifiable. But we have no equivalent 'just peace' theory."
<https://www.archbishopofcanterbury.org/speaking-writing/articles/world-without-violent-conflict-really-possible-archbishop-justin-writes>
- iv. From the Society of St. John the Evangelist
 - (1) Spirit
It is an extraordinary thought that God's Spirit has come mightily upon us – and not just once, at our baptisms. We each have that Spirit now – a great power which we can call upon every day. Call out that power: Come, Holy Spirit! And that Spirit, like the sun and the rain, will help the seeds which God has planted deep within us to grow and flourish.
–Br. Geoffrey Tristram
 - (2) Belonging
Imagine God as Trinity, and then go one step further. Try imagining a fourth person. We are the fourth person in the circle, a circle of belonging and love. That is how much God loves us. That is how much we all belong, we who have been created in the very image and likeness of God.
–Br. Curtis Almquist
